

Extend your reach with virtual presentations

Create dynamic content and communicate to a wider audience through virtual presentations

Virtual presentations are an exciting, new method of interactive communication that combine a compelling corporate slide presentation with high-quality real-time audio from your management team that powerfully delivers the value proposition and the investment opportunity that your company represents. When in sync with your company's financial objectives and investor relations program, virtual presentations can improve message clarity, build trust and credibility, and more importantly, educate and engage current and potential new investors.

Lytham Partners provides this highly effective platform to capture the attention and interest of potential new investors as they navigate your website or social media touch points. The ability for existing and potential new investors to quickly access a comprehensive corporate presentation, accompanied by audio, greatly enhances your company's ability to effectively communicate your value proposition, and your investment opportunity to a diverse and geographically scattered array of investors.

Robert Blum, Managing Partner
Lytham Partners, LLC
602-889-9700
blum@lythampartners.com
www.lythampartners.com

Keep The Conversation Going

Use virtual presentations to communicate your company's story, expand upon your quarterly performance, or highlight products and services.

Create Effective Presentations

We specialize in working with management teams to help create compelling slide decks and well-scripted messages.

Share Your Presentations

Our virtual presentations are high-quality content that can be easily uploaded to your website and shared on most social media platforms.

Reach New Audiences

Whether it is an institutional investor in the Northwest or overseas, virtual presentations are an effective way to reach those that you may be unable to meet face-to-face.

Choose Your Package

Select a single virtual presentation or a quarterly presentation package.

For more information on our virtual presentation packages, please contact Robert Blum, managing partner of Lytham Partners, at 602-889-9700.